CRAWLING SNACKS from around the world

1,681 insect species are eaten in:

11 countries in Europe
23 countries in the Americas
36 countries in Africa
29 countries in Asia
14 countries in Oceania

Entomophagy is the practice of eating insects. Over 2,500,000,000 people around the world eat insects daily.

In North Thailand, the top reason for eating insects is...

"Insects are tasty."

The Food and Agricultural Organization (FAO) is promoting insects as a future food source as they are highly nutritious and much more environmentally friendly than cattle or chicken.